25 years expertise

THE Better Hearing Exhibition is returning to your area, uniting leading hearing aid experts for an event dedicated to those with hearing concerns.

Loss of hearing can separate us from people. When someone in the family has a hearing loss, the entire family has a communication problem. The interactive Better Hearing Exhibition, held at venues in your area, is an ideal opportunity for anyone to see and try new hearing aid technology and benefit from friendly and professional advice on improved hearing.

SOUNDS IDEAL

We rely on our sense of hearing for so many things - communicating thoughts and ideas, relaxation, entertainment, safety. The use of hearing instruments enhances the quality of life for the hearing impaired.

During your free test you can also experience a Video Otoscope examination. This allows you to see inside your own ears on a colour screen. Our qualified hearing aid audiologist can show you exactly what is going on inside your ear canal without any discomfort. "We offer all our visitors this advanced level of hearing care, including a comprehensive hearing assessment. Our aim is to leave everyone completely satisfied with our comprehensive free service."

Let's show you what's happening inside...

Our state-of-the-art video otoscope system can show inside your ear canal right up to your ear drum, all visible on the colour screen.

See inside your ear like never before, with no discomfort whatsoever!

Video otoscopy allows us to clearly visualise the ear canal and ear drum by projecting an image onto a computer monitor.

Using video otoscopy, we can see first hand any conditions such as the presence or build up of wax, or debris in the canal that may cause problems with your hearing.

Give your ears a clean bill of health!

Video otoscopy ultimately provides both patients and audiologists with a greater understanding and appreciation of what is happening inside your ear.

Unblock the problem with our FREE Wax Removal Clinic

It's not the most pleasant topics to talk about, but removing ear wax can help you hear better.

Earwax is a natural substance that keeps the inner parts of your ear free from dirt and debris. But excess levels of earwax can be unsightly, cause discomfort and affect your hearing. If you think you are suffering from a build up of earwax, come and see us at the Better Hearing Clinic Event and take advantage of our FREE Wax Removal Clinic with our trained Specialist Nurse Julie Murray.

She will check your ear canal for signs of excess wax using the Video Otoscope system shown above.

If there is a higher than normal level of wax Nurse Murray will remove the wax straight away. The state-of-the-art equipment used is a ClearSound technique that requires no harsh syringing but removes any blockage with a specially designed pulse machine or a gentle wash with warm water.

Julie says, "The Better Hearing Clinic Event is the perfect opportunity to give your ears a complete health check and it may be something as simple as earwax that is causing your hearing problems."

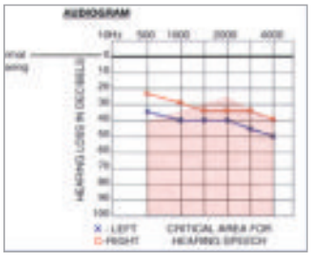
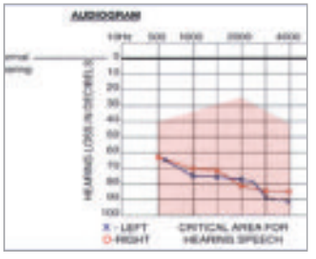
FREE AUDIOMETRIC TEST

Following a discussion on the history of your hearing a brief ear examination, our Hearing Aid Audiologist will carry out a free comprehensive hearing test. You are asked to respond to a variety of frequencies which allow the Hearing Aid Audiologist to plot your results on a graph. With the results explained, the test is over ... it's as simple as that!

We often find it is a great help when testing your hearing to have a familiar voice with you. Part of our full hearing assessment is to present speech in what is called a Speech Clarity Test. A family member or close friend is ideal and they are free to help you with the hearing test as well as ask questions which you may not have thought of yourself.





Your Questions Answered...

Anything you are unsure of, simply ask our fully qualified Hearing Aid Audiologists

Q. How will wearing a hearing aid affect my hearing in the future?

A. Tests have actually shown that those people who wear their hearing aid regularly, strain less to hear and reduce the rate of further deterioration compared to people who need a hearing aid and do not wear it!

Q. My wife says the TV is too loud for her. I feel my hearing is OK so would a test be a waste of time?

A. No! It is never a waste of time. Our dispenser will always give you the best advice and will be happy to confirm if you have no hearing loss! Your test is completely without obligation and there is no pressure to have a hearing aid, just honest and sound advice.

Q. My friend has a NHS hearing aid which looks big and uncomfortable. If I needed a hearing aid, would it be the same size?

A. We can offer a whole range of small and discreet in-the-ear solutions and you will be advised on the best hearing solution for your hearing loss. As we are independent of any hearing aid manufacturer we can offer a wide selection of hearing aids and styles from small virtually invisible aids to power aids for more of a severe hearing loss.

Q. Do I have to pay for tests and service in the future?

A. No, our aftercare is free for life and there will never be a charge for re-testing, servicing or even home visits.

Widow prays for driver who killed husband

By Chris Amery
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

The widow of a man who sustained fatal injuries in a horror crash in St Helens says she prays the motorist responsible will be able to come to terms with the tragedy.

The astonishingly forgiving statement was provided to police by Ann Foster, whose husband Trevor sustained serious spinal injuries in a crash on the St Helens Linkway last summer.

Liverpool Crown Court heard how Neil Lyon's Ford Transit van smashed into the back of Mr Foster's Ford Ka at about 9.40pm on July 19 last year because of a "momentary lapse of concentration" behind the wheel.

Simon Duncan, prosecuting, told how Mr Foster, 63, a father-of-four and great-grandfather, had emergency spinal surgery at Walton Hospital before succumbing to a fatal infection on July 31.

Both vehicles were seriously damaged by the crash and Mr Foster suffered multiple rib and spinal fractures.

Lyon told Mrs Foster, who had been in the front passenger seat of her husband's car, that he was sorry and had only taken his eyes off the road for a split second.

Eric Lamb, defending, said his client, who previously had a blemish-free driving licence, had also made admissions to a bystander at the scene and

An outstanding success for college

By Natalie Walker
natalie.walker1@jpress.co.uk
@NWalkerWIG

St Helens College is celebrating after being awarded fantastic Ofsted results.

Inspectors spent a week at the college's two campuses, in Waterside, Pocket Nook, and used group and individual interviews, telephone calls and online questionnaires to gather the views of employees and learners.

The inspectors also evaluated the effectiveness of leadership and management.

The report, which was published this week, praised the college's progress towards outstanding status.

Principal Dr Jette Burford

'We have made a commitment to drive standards'

Dr Jette Burford

(pictured) said: "We are extremely pleased with our result.

"The achievement is an excellent outcome for the college and is the culmination of hard work and determination shown by both students and colleagues. We made a clear commitment to drive up education standards for the benefit of the communities in St Helens borough.

"The Ofsted report is just one of the many successes we have seen recently that reinforces the realisation of that ambition.

"However, we will not be stopping to celebrate for long. We have a clear strategy and relentless determination to succeed on our journey to outstanding."

St Helens Council's Cabinet member for schools and lifelong learning, Coun Sue Murphy, said "This is a very good report and well deserved.

"Ofsted has clearly recognised the considerable progress."

A mother's anger as wait for news goes on

By Andrew Nowell
andrew.nowell@jpress.co.uk
@ANowellWIG

A Billinge mum has criticised the parole system as her agonising wait to find out if her daughter's killer will be freed from jail goes on.

Marie McCourt is angry at the parole system

Marie McCourt spoke after more than a fortnight of delays in discovering whether Ian Simms went before the parole board on March 31.

Simms was locked up for the murder of 22-year-old insurance clerk Helen McCourt but has never revealed what happened to the body in the 26 years since.

Mrs McCourt said that whatever the outcome of the parole hearing victims' families are not given enough care and attention by the authorities.

She said: "I just think the way the victims' families are treated by the whole system is awful and very unfair.

"They go out of their way to ensure a prisoner has access to a barrister or solicitor and can appeal the decisions, but we've no right to appeal and you have to apply to the judge just to attend the parole hearing.

"If he decides he doesn't want the victim's family there they can't be there, and I just think that's wrong."

Mrs McCourt gave evidence to a panel at Leyland's Garth Prison last year before Simms's bid for freedom was adjourned for reasons which have not been disclosed.

Police recently made a fruitless search of St Aidan's churchyard in Billinge, and Mrs McCourt has since written an addendum statement to the parole judge, explaining how much pain such false leads continue to cause her.

Mrs McCourt also says she wants the system changed so Simms can remain in prison indefinitely until he admits what he has done with Helen's remains.

She said: "I just think something needs to be done. I feel this man should be told that until he is prepared to divulge where the burial site is he can never look forward to a release date."

had pleaded guilty to causing death by careless driving at the first opportunity.

He told how Lyon, of Central Drive, Haydock, had since been referred by his GP for psychological therapy.

Judge Andrew Menary described Mrs Foster's victim impact statement as "highly moving".

He said it spoke of her utter devastation at the loss of her husband but also of her understanding about what happened and of her prayers that Lyon is able to come to terms with the tragedy.

Judge Menary also described it as "a dreadfully sad case". He told Lyon: "Tragically, for a moment, you were distracted by something in the cab of your van. The consequences were devastating for Mr Foster and his family - and significant for you.

"This accident is another reminder of the very great need for all drivers to maintain, at all times, complete concentration on the road."

Lyon was banned from driving for 12 months and ordered to complete 200 hours unpaid work. He must also pay £100 costs and a victim surcharge.

Controversial gypsy site deemed legal

By Chris Amery
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

A St Helens travelling family accused of turning an old transport yard into "a fortress" have been granted retrospective planning permission despite neighbours' complaints.

The planning inspectorate opted to overturn St Helens Council's ruling that the erection of a 2.4 metre high boundary fence, concrete pillars and wrought iron gates was unacceptable.

Andrew Smith had appealed against the ruling and applied for retrospective planning permission at the Glover Street site.

Council planning chiefs had knocked back an earlier application by Mr Smith after he built on the site before securing planning permission.

Two static caravans have already been placed on the site, which is just outside the Shires housing estate.

The travellers yard in Glover Street, in Ravenhead

Council officer John Waddelow argued at an earlier hearing that the boundary fencing, particularly at the front, was too "austere" and would isolate the site's residents from the community.

Barbed wire can also be seen at the top of sections of a boundary fence.

One resident described the site as being "like a fortress".

Mr Waddelow said: "We do want the site to be secure but this feels like more than just being secure - it feels like too much."

Mr Smith argued that the level of security was necessary because bricks had been thrown at the site.

He said: "We need to be closed in because other people are targeting us constantly. Where are we meant to go?"

Planners were also concerned about the effect the fencing had on the overal character of the area.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Motorist hurt in roundabout crash

A motorist was checked over by paramedics after a car crashed into a roundabout on the St Helens Linkway. Emergency crews were called to the A570's junction with Elton Head Road at about 9.45am yesterday (Tuesday, April 15). The driver of the car, a man, was already out of the vehicle before firefighters arrive and was given a precautionary check by paramedics.

Fire breaks out at building site

Firefighters were called out to tackle a blaze at a house which was under construction. Crews from Eccleston and Kirkby were called to a house on Sidings Lane, Rainford, shortly before 3pm on Monday (April 14). When they arrived the ground floor of the property was well alight and a third appliance, from St Helens fire station, was requested to assist.

COMMENT

Keep truant rate down

The news that the percentage of regular absentees in St Helens schools has come down slightly since last year is a positive sign.

Keeping a high attendance rate is important for all youngsters and schools, parents and the local authority have a joint responsibility to maintain high standards.

Those who have poor attendance may have underlying problems and schemes are in place to help identify them at the earliest stage.

Let's hope the persistent absentee numbers continue to fall.

College on the right track

Well done to staff and students alike at St Helens College for their recent outstanding Ofsted report.

After a number of poor inspections at secondaries across the borough, it's refreshing to be able to report on positive developments in our education sector.

YOUR LETTERS

IPADS

Technology costing way too much

The procurement of Apple iPads and iPhones for each of the 48 St Helens councillors is an extravagance too far and will only serve to drive a wedge between councillors and the residents they are supposed to represent.

I do not accept in the slightest that these expensive gadgets will be good value for money for those struggling to pay their council tax.

Apple are defined as a premium brand for both smart phones and tablets with all of their products fetching an eye-watering price tag that many people in St Helens simply cannot afford.

The council should not be in the business of ensuring its members have the most sought after gadgets on the market especially when there are so many cheaper alternatives out there.

Surely, if a councillor wants to stay in touch with their constituents via Twitter, Facebook and by email, a bog standard £50-100 smart phone at the councillor's own expense would have been sufficient.

Paul Nuttall,
UKIP Merseyside MEP

BUDGET WOES

Cost of living crisis affects everyone

For weeks leading up to the budget we were continually told by Labour politicians that the average worker in Britain was £1600 worse off after four years of the coalition government than they were in 2010. Maybe I'm a bit slow, but even if it's true would this not be the expected outcome after coming out of the deepest recession for generations caused in no small part by the very people who are now telling us how it should be done.

The trouble with Labour is that they are still in the memory bank for the 13 years of tax, spend and give-away government and according to their feeble cries no-one would have been worse off under Labour, meaning that the nation would have been even deeper in debt than we were. So bad was the situation that the Treasury Minister left a note saying "Sorry there is no money left," as he switched off the lights and closed the door behind him.

One last thing: Just ask the workers in Spain and Greece, if you can find any, would they like to be only £1600 worse off after four years?

Last night I and many others had a fantastic and utterly enjoyable night whilst attending the Festival Of Choirs at Parish Church which was held to raise monies for Willowbrook Hospice. The standard of all of the entertainment was superb! Everyone went home with a smile on their faces and gave generously to a good cause. The person whose idea this was, John Beirne, deserves recognition for his generous community and charity work in St Helens.

ALLOTMENTS

Thanks for the support

Recently our Knowsley and St Helens Life After Stroke Service allotment on Alder Hey Road was targeted on several occasions by vandals. They caused a great deal of damage by breaking into the polytunnel, ripping out the plants' supporting canes, slashing the sides and ripping the doors.
After an appeal to the community for help, we were overwhelmed by the remarkable generosity and support of local people, who all got in touch to offer their support.
We just wanted to say a huge thank you to Councillor Michael Haw, the 12th St Helens (Newtown) Scouts and the kindhearted local people who helped us repair the damage and restore the allotment, by offering their time and expertise. Stroke survivors and carers can now enjoy using the allotment again in the coming months as part of their recovery. Thank you.

MOTORWAYS

Just like a rubbish tip

May I please, through your newspaper, express my disgust and anger at the state of the motorways within the area?
In the last two weeks I've travelled on the M6, M61 and M65 and they all have the same problem – masses of rubbish, mostly plastic, on the grass verges and central reservations.
What an absolute mess they seem to be in! Not only is it an eyesore for travellers but it cannot be good for farmland animals, wildlife and birds.
I travelled past the new Brockholes Nature Reserve on the M6 and it was heart breaking to see so much rubbish on its borders with the motorway.
This rubbish doesn't just appear on its own; it is obviously litter louts who chuck it out and it must be blown off travelling vehicles.
It takes decades for plastic supermarket carrier bags and sheets of plastic to break down and until it is cleared, it will remain there. It's a disgrace and doesn't do the county any favours!

DOMESTIC VIOLENT

Yobs prison sentence soft

How can a man who punched his heavily pregnant girlfriend receive only a four week jail term? Perhaps the magistrates were restricted in their sentencing but I'm sure most will join me in thinking Alexander Potts (St Helens Reporter, April 9) should be serving a much longer jail term. Also, well done to the Reporter for highlighting these appalling crimes. Keep naming and shaming these people; they deserre it and should not be allowed to hide.

Regular absentee rate falls in borough

By James Illingworth
james.illingworth@jpress.co.uk
@JIllingworthWIG

A 1,000 strong group of St Helens schoolchildren are regularly missing lessons, according to a new Government report.

Absentee rates are failling across the borough

Figures from the Department for Education reveal that the borough has 1,017 youngsters who miss more than 15 per cent of school sessions.

Although the percentage of persistent absentees has reduced from 5.4 in 2011/12 to 4.7 in 2012/13.

This places St Helens on an equivalent level with both the regional (4.7) and national averages (4.6).

Across the country, illness accounted for a large majority of school absences at just under 60 per cent.

And the rate of missed sessions as a result of family holidays reduced from 10 per cent to nine.

The percentage of regular absentees in St Helens primary schools was better than both the national (2.7) and regional (2.8) averages.

A total of 305 pupils were recorded as regularly missing class equating to 2.5 per cent of the total intake.

In secondary schools, the rate of regular absentees was higher than in other areas of the country.

A total of 663 pupils, working out at 7.1 per cent of the overall intake of 9,396, meant a higher rate than the national (6.5) and regional (6.6) averages.

The report classifies students as persistent absentees as those who have missed more than 15 per cent of state funded school sessions across the academic year's six terms.

Special schools in St Helens also had comparable rates to elsewhere in the country with persistent absentees accounting for 16 per cent of last year's cohort of 291.

Nationwide, 36 per cent of students had fewer than five days absence across the academic year.

Man, 21, jailed for gangland murder

By Chris Amery
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

A St Helens man has been jailed for life for murdering trained pilot Jason Osu and attempting to kill another man amid a gangland feud.

Murder victim Jason Osu and (inset) killer Paul Croxton

Taxi driver Paul Croxton was among three men found guilty of the murder of the father-of-two in a targeted shooting in Liverpool in November 2012.

The 21-year-old, of Polinda Gardens, Thatto Heath, was also found guilty of attempting to murder Darren Alcock and shooting at houses associated with criminal rivals.

Liverpool Crown Court heard how Mr Osu, 31, was ambushed by masked men on his driveway who then fled in a car which had been stolen from outside Queens Park Leisure Centre.

High Court judge Mr Justice Openshaw told how the murder had been "carefully planned" and how Croxton had visited the scene on more than 20 occasions in his private hire taxi.

The judge said of Croxton: "He was not acting on his own over some private grievance with Jason Osu. In fact it is quite possible he did not know him at all. He received his orders from some shadowy, sinister, malign and powerful gangland figure."

He said that nothing had been said about Jason Osu's lifestyle, but added: "To my mind the inevitable and inescapable conclusion given the manner of his murder was he was ruthlessly and professionally executed in pursuance of some gangland feud."

Judge Openshaw, who jailed Croxton for life, said he would have fixed the minimum term at 27 years for Mr Osu's murder - a reduction from the 30-year starting point for gun murders because the defendant was just 20 at the time.

But, because of his involvement in the other shootings, he increased that to a minimum term of 30 years before he can apply for parole.

George McGovern, 54, who was involved in the planning will only be considered for release when he turns 80.

Gunman Thomas White, 30, was told he had shown "not the slightest regret" over what he had done. He was jailed for life and must serve a minimum of 32 years.

St Helens Chamber Jobs Challenge

Apprenticeship helps Emily fly as a Legal Eagle

St Helens teenager Emily Stockley is carving out a career in the dynamic field of law after securing an Apprenticeship provided by St Helens Chamber.

Emily, 19, is making rapid progress at legal firm St Helens Law, after embarking on an Apprenticeship 17 months ago.

After developing skills as a receptionist, the former Rainhill High School pupil is now working within the firm's conveyancing department and loves every minute of it.

"It is brilliant to have a foot on the career ladder and be learning so much whilst getting paid," says Emily, from Prescot, who undertook the Chamber's Work Ready programme after completing A levels in Fine Art, IT and English Language.

"I didn't want to go to university and when I spotted an advert in my sixth form for the Chamber's Apprenticeship programme, I decided to go for it. I'm really glad I did as it has opened so many doors for me."

Emily has completed a Level 2 Apprenticeship in Business Administration and is now about to start an NVQ Level 3 qualification.

"I would really recommend an Apprenticeship to other young people," she adds. "Even if they are unsure, I would urge them to at least get some information to see what it is all about."

Paul Wood, Practice Manager at St Helens Law, based on Shaw Street, says: "Emily has progressed very well from her role as receptionist to the private client side of the business.

"I believe that the Chamber's Work Ready programme is very valuable as it does a great job in preparing young Apprentices for the workplace. It is a big step from formal education to the adult workplace and the teaching and guidance provided by the Chamber is excellent."

Apprenticeships are now widely available across a wide range of business sectors and there are good opportunities for future career progression. As well as earning a wage Apprentices receive training from the Chamber to work towards nationally recognised qualifications.

Jon encourages local youngsters to turn to the Chamber for their 2014 Easter job hunt

Saints player Jon Wilkin was one of the guests at St Helens Chamber's Open Evening last week, meeting with prospective new Apprentices in his role as Ambassador for the Chamber's 365 Jobs Challenge.

Jon is supporting the Chamber's campaign to create 365 new jobs for local young people in 2014 – one for every day of the year.

Over 130 vacancies have already been pledged by local businesses and young people are starting work every week.

To find out more about undertaking an Apprenticeship or if you are a business with a vacancy that could be filled by an Apprentice, call St Helens Chamber on 01744 742333.

We're with you all the way!

If you're 16 - 24 and looking for work, we can help. Local businesses are pledging 365 new jobs in 2014, so we have plenty of vacancies!

We look forward to seeing you there!

Policeman praised
20 years ago

A police officer's bravery in tackling a man who had threatened to shoot him with two guns was praised by a crown court judge.
Carl Harrison had earlier threatened to shoot of PC Paul Richardson's colleagues as they pursued him through St Helens.
PC Richardson seized his opportunity to pounce when Harrison momentarily lowered his two air pistols.
Harrison, who had been arrested a week earlier for possession of a shotgun and ammunition, had stolen the weapons from a Gleave Street shop.

H'boro reunion
25 years ago

Liverpool fan Lee Darlington, 19, of Haydock, was emotionally reunited with Nottingham Forest fan Chris Gill, a 26-year-old upholsterer, who saved Lee from choking to death in the turmoil at Hillsborough.
Lee had been caught in the crush and passed over heads before being hauled onto the pitch.
He was then stretchered to the other side of the ground, where Chris found him gasping for breath and choking.
The pair sealed their bond of friendship when Chris visited Lee in St Helens just a fortnight later.

Revolutionary op
30 years ago

A teenager who had suffered from a severe form of diabetes for five years became just the second person in England to undergo a revolutionary operation.
Susan Dufton, 19, of Billinge, who suffered from a rare condition known as brittle diabetes, was expected to be able to return to her family within a month thanks to medical staff at the Freeman Hospital in Newcastle.
A team of doctors, led by Mr Peter Wright, helped transform her life by implanting a £4,000 infusion pump into her stomach to release insulin as required.

Woman, 51, hurt during five-hour house blaze

Firefighters spent more than five hours tackling a house blaze in Rainford.

Crews were called to Lords Fold shortly after 9.30am last Tuesday (April 15) and gave oxygen to a 51-year-old woman at the scene.

The fire started in the bedroom of the house before spreading to the roof space and was well alight when firefighters arrived.

It caused damage to both the ground and first floors and the roof.

Firefighters remained at the scene until just after 2.45pm.

The cause of the fire remains under investigation.

Jumble sale for church

A Sutton church is holding a jumble sale on Saturday, May 3.

St Nicholas Hall in New Street, Sutton, will open its doors to bargain hunters from 1pm.

The event is promising bags of newly-new items for sale.

All proceeds will go to church funds.

The church has already sold all its allotted spaces for anyone interested in hosting a stall.

Microwave sparked fire

Firefighters were called to a blaze in the kitchen of a sheltered accommodation flat.

Crews from St Helens, Eccleston and Whiston all responded to an alarm at a sheltered accommodation address on Elton Head Road last Thursday (April 17).

A man was given a precuaitionary check after suffering slight smoke inhalation when food cooking in a microwave sparked a fire.

He did not require hospital treatment. No-one else was injured.

COURT REPORTER

Fake roofer 'conned' homeowners

An Eccleston man has been charged with conning residents out of cash by claiming he'd repaired roof tiles without doing the work.

Darren Greenhalgh, of Higham Avenue, faces four counts of fraud by false representation. The 27-year-old indicated he would plead guilty when he appeared at St Helens Magistrates' Court last week.

He was remanded on conditional bail to allow a pre-sentence report to be prepared. JPs heard one of Greenhalgh's victim suffers from short-term memory loss. He is due to be sentenced on May 1.

'Purple Aki' cleared of muscle grope charge

New charges against a body-building fanatic who was once banned from entering St Helens for groping men's muscles have been dropped.

Lawyers dropped charges against Akinwale Arobieke after accepting the evidence against him was flawed.

Mr Arobieke, 52, once referred to in court as "Purple Aki", had been accused of breaching a sexual offences prevention order by touching a man's bicep in Liverpool last year.

But prosecutor Kim Egerton told Liverpool Crown Court that when the evidence was received there had been a "fundamental breach of the codes of practice of the police and criminal evidence act".

No evidence was offered and Mr Arobieke, who had been due to face a plea and case hearing, was discharged.

Illegal tobacco haul seized in campaign

BY LUCY HILTON
lucy.hilton@jpress.co.uk
@LHiltonWIG

Thousands of illegal cigarettes have been seized in St Helens as part of a campaign to tackle rogue traders.

Operation Rogue Trader campaign

Operation Rogue Trader also saw 19 roadside stop checks made during the annual week of activity by the Council's Trading Standards team and Merseyside Police to raise awareness about the problems of rogue trading.

Three properties were searched with thousands of illegal cigarettes were seized from one address.

This was after the stash was "sniffed out" by specially trained dogs who are able to locate hidden illegal tobacco.

Darrell Wilson, Chief Trading Standards Officer at St Helens Council, said: "Operation Rogue Trader is an excellent example of partners working together to tackle the real misery caused by rogue traders.

"Offenders can be both plausible and intimidating in order to convince their victims to part with cash for overpriced and shoddy work.

"Trading Standards advice is to always say "no" to any traders offering to carry out work who unexpectedly turn up on your doorstep."

Rogue traders are individuals or groups of people who cold-call householders, often targeting vulnerable residents, claiming to be a bona fide business charging excessive fees for building or gardening.

For example, yet the work carried out is either sub-standard or not carried out at all.

Anyone who suspects rogue traders are operating in the area are advised to contact the police on 101.

Probe into man's death in street launched

Detectives are investigating following the death of a man who collapsed in the street.

Officers were called to Hargreaves Street in Broadoak in the early hours of Saturday.

The 37-year-old was rushed to hospital but was pronounced dead shortly after arrival.

The man has been identified and his next-of-kin have been informed.

A post-mortem has been conducted the results of which are inconclusive.

DCI Steve Cox, said: "As part of the investigation into this man's death we are keen to retrace his final steps.

"I would urge anyone who remembers seeing a white man, approximately 6ft tall with short dark hair walking along Broadoak Road with another man between 10pm and 10.45pm last night to get in touch.

"We believe the deceased may have been in an altercation with three males in their late teens or early 20s earlier in the evening.

"Information that may seem trivial could assist us greatly with our enquiries."

The death is currently being treated as unexplained and an investigation into the matter is ongoing.

Anyone with information is asked to call Merseyside Police on 0151 777 6084/6811 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Dog safety day hailed

More St Helens dog owners stand a better chance of being reunited with lost pets following a microchipping event at King George V Park in Thatto Heath.

St Helens Council's Dog Welfare and Enforcement Service performed the painless procedure on 72 pooches throughout the day as part of the Springwatch campaign.

From 2016 all dogs in England must be microchipped – making it easier for strays to be identified and contact made with the owner.

A glass act by artistic couple

BY ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

Artists will usually build up an impressive body of work before launching their first ever exhibition.

But St Helens artistic couple Paul Adams and his wife Gillian did the exact opposite - by booking an exhibition then setting out to create work to fill the space.

"It nearly ended in us killing each other because we found ourselves under so much pressure," says Paul.

"It was just before our 13th wedding anniversary and I began to wonder if we'd ever reach it!"

Fortunately, they survived the trauma and the results are currently on display at the World of Glass in the form of the exhibition Cullet.

Paul explains: "We'd worked individually as artists for over 20 years but two years ago we collaborated to produce an exhibit for the final show at the Godfrey Pilkington Gallery before it moved to The World of Glass.

"Shortly after that we booked this current exhibition but we really only got down to work this Christmas and it's been hectic."

What had fired their imagination was being given a discarded but colourful lump of glass waste - known as 'cullet' - by an uncle who used to be miner.

"Gillian took some photographs that revealed the beauty of this flawed and unwanted piece of glass and that suggested our theme," says Paul.

"I am a figurative artist while Gillian is more abstract but we decided to link up to explore this hidden potential in objects, old crafts and even people that have been discarded.

"Miners and mining figure strongly in our exhibition and Gillian often finds inspiration in items she finds in charity shops such as dolls, old tools or even objects such as stepladders.

"It's all about looking deeper, seeing things in a new light and recognising their beauty."

Cullet runs at The World of Glass until May 16.

Dr Feelgood are set to return

They've been hailed as one of the world's greatest rhythm and blues bands.

Now Dr Feelgood are coming back to the Citadel, a venue they know well from recent years.

They'll be at the Water Street arts centre on Saturday, May 17, showcasing the kind of gritty, hard-driving rock 'n roll that has been their trademark during a 40-year career.

The current line-up features Kevin Morris on drums and Phil Mitchell on bass, both 29 years in the band, and Steve Walwyn on guitar who has been with the band for 23 years. Vocalist Robert Kane (formerly of the Animals) is the most recent addition - joining in 1999.

Dr Feelgood's stripped down, energetic hits such as Milk and Alcohol, Down at the Doctors and Roxette always raise the roof in their legendary, sizzling live shows.

■ Tickets for their Citadel show cost £15.50 advance, £13.50 advance concessions, or £17 on the door by calling the box office on 01744 735436.

'If you can bless one person's life to believe, it's worth it'

Psychic Tony Stockwell brings his gift of clairvoyancy to the St Helens Theatre Royal next Wednesday.

During his 20 years as a medium, Tony has worked on countless TV shows, including Psychic Academy, Psychic Detective, Street Psychic and Psychic School.

He has also written four highly-acclaimed books.

Even as a child Tony knew he was different from other children. From an early age he was aware of seeing people before him who others could not see. It was common for him to hear his name being called by someone unseen, and also common for him to be aware of events before they actually happened.

He explains: "Whether through mental or physical mediumship, on TV or through small groups, if you can bless one person's life to absolutely believe beyond doubt that their Mum, their Dad, their Son, or their Daughter is actually going to be there waiting for them and it gives them comfort, then that's worth doing."

For more details call the Theatre Royal box office on 01744 756000.

HIGH DEMAND FOR FLATS

Taylor Wimpey is reporting that apartments at its Speakman Gardens development in Prescot are selling fast thanks to their appeal with first-time buyers through Help to Buy.

Apartments at the scheme, which boasts excellent transport links to Liverpool, St Helens and the wider North West, are available from just £71,996 using the government-backed initiative.

With the first block already sold out and a stong pipeline of reservations, viewings and enquiries, interested parties are urged to act quickly.

David Hnyda from Taylor Wimpey said: "Speakman Gardens is an attractive, friendly development that currently offers a trio of stylish, generously proportioned two bedroom apartment designs. Interested parties will need to act quickly to avoid missing out."

The Help to Buy scheme enables eligible buyers to secure a property with just five per cent deposit. Buyers also receive a 20 per cent equity loan, meaning they only require a 75 per cent loan-to-value mortgage.

Speakman Gardens also offers a choice of two or three bedroom mews designs with prices starting from £134,995, or £107,996 when purchased with Help to Buy.

For further information please call the sales office on 0151 559 3137 or visit www.taylorwimpey.co.uk/speakman-gardens

LEAP IN PROPERTY PRICES

HOUSE prices are now rising "strongly" across most parts of the UK after official figures showed values leapt 9.1% year-on-year to a new average high of £253,000.

House prices are up 9.1% year on year

Prices jumped 1.9% month-on-month in February, meaning the index run by the Office for National Statistics (ONS) surpassed a previous record set the previous month.

The report said that the majority of the country is now seeing strong year-on-year growth in property prices. All regions across the UK saw prices rise, ranging from a 17.7% increase in London to a 2.4% rise in Scotland.

London continues to drive the market, with property prices there now standing at reach £458,000 on average. Prices in England are rising at their slowest in the North East, which recorded a 2.9% annual rise, pushing typical prices there to £146,000.

House prices have lifted year-on-year by 8.0% in the South East, by 7.7% in the East of England, by 7.6% in the East Midlands, by 5.8% in the South West, by 5.6% in the West Midlands, by 5.9% in the North West and by 5.3% in Yorkshire and the Humber.

The report said: "House price growth is increasing strongly across most parts of the UK, with prices in London again showing the highest growth." The typical cost of a home has jumped annually by 9.7% in England to reach around £264,000, by 5.3% in Wales to £167,000, by 2.4% in Scotland to £183,000 and by 2.8% in Northern Ireland to £130,000.

The year-on-year rise in house prices in England is the fastest seen for the nation since June 2010. England remains the only UK nation where prices are above their pre-crisis peak, sitting at 5% above a high for the England index recorded in 2008.

Prices in Northern Ireland are still 50.2% below their previous index highs, while in Scotland and Wales they are 6.8% and 2.9% below their previous peaks respectively.

The ONS figures also show that someone trying to get on the property ladder faces paying 10.5% more for a property than they would have done a year ago, with the typical price paid by first-time buyers reaching £192,000 in February.

The latest figures fuelled concerns about "runaway train" house prices, with some commentators putting the blame partly on the Government's Help to Buy scheme, which has helped to increase demand in the housing market.

Help to Buy, which was fully launched into action at the end of last year, is designed to offer people with a deposit as low as 5% a helping hand onto or up the property ladder.

But critics have argued that it is adding to the upward pressure on house prices by ramping up demand from would-be buyers in areas where the supply of homes coming to market is failing to keep up.

Sam Bowman, research director of think-tank the Adam Smith Institute, said: "Help to Buy is likely to be one factor in these price rises, because the scheme inflates demand by subsidising home buying...

"But the biggest cause of these runaway train price rises is the planning system, which makes it inordinately difficult for new construction to take place to allow supply to meet demand."

Campbell Robb, chief executive of charity Shelter, said: "We need to see the Government commit to concrete plans that will close the ever expanding gap between the homes we have and the homes we need.

"This is the only way to put the brakes on our roller-coaster housing market, and give a generation of priced out young people and families the chance of a stable home."

Andrew Montlake, director of mortgage brokers Coreco, contrasted the house price data with separate figures released today which showed that the Consumer Prices Index (CPI) rate of inflation has dropped to a new four-year low of 1.6%.

He said: "With inflation overall falling to 1.6%, this makes London's 17.7% uplift look even more extraordinary, contributing to a growing issue which continues to widen the gap between the generations in terms of home ownership."

Toughened mortgage lending rules are set to come into force later this month, which aim to prevent any return to irresponsible mortgage lending and will mean lenders have to take into account the impact that a possible future rise in interest rates could have on someone applying for a mortgage being able to afford their payments.

Mr Montlake said these new tightened rules under the Mortgage Market Review (MMR) rules will make the situation tougher for would-be first-time buyers who already face paying 10.5% more for a property than they did a year ago.

He said that a lack of homes to choose from and high stamp duty rates are putting potential sellers off putting their homes on the market.

Housing Minister Kris Hopkins said: "We have a series of initiatives to boost housing supply, including the provision of affordable housing and to support a healthy private rented sector."

FOX (Marion)
nee Hancox. Loving memories, 25th April 13
One year has passed since that sad day, farewells unspoken you went away. We'd give the world just to say 'We'll go round and see our Mum today.' It's hard to put on paper, the feeling deep inside, of a brokenhearted family, who have missed you since you died. We think of you in silence, we make no outward show, but what it meant to lose you Mum, no one will ever know.
All Your Family xx

GOODIER (Terry)
Precious memories, 23.4.2010.
Never a day do I forget you, in my heart you are always near. God alone knows how I miss you, as it begins the fourth sad year. My heart still aches with sadness, my secret tears still flow, for what it meant to lose you, no one will ever know.
Love and miss you always Terry, love Linda xxxxx

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSON (Joan)
Loving memories of a dear wife, 8 years, 28th April.
How sweet life was when you were there. Just two of us and old wedded pair. Life was good as life went on, then suddenly, - you were gone. Life crashed down before me. My heart in a million pieces, lay on the floor. It could not be, perhaps a dream, that I would see you no more. I think of your loving eyes, the way you smile, - the things you used to say. You haunt my thought each moment of the day, every moment of you, you never go away. You know how much I love you and I always will. As each day my leaden heart climbs life's weary hill. Home is silent now, no one sees my tears. Must I weep forever in the lifetime of my years? Yet I am glad I was the one who met you, and my life and love did share. I was proud to walk beside you t'was good when you were there. I often think of our sunny days, and the Autumns too, but the greatest blessing you left me was, when, I was chosen and loved by you. When my weary head is on my pillow, the golden moonlight gleams and I whisper softly I love you, tread softly on my dreams.
Loving husband Harry x

LAMB (Adrienne)
30th April 2009.

Love and miss you Ade, Joe xxx also loved and missed by all the Costello family xxx

IN MEMORIAM

RAWSTHORNE Mark
2nd Anniversary of a loving son and brother, 25th April.
We think of you in silence, we often speak your name. But all we have are memories and your picture in a frame. Your resting place we visit and put flowers there with care, but no one knows the heartache as we turn and leave you there.
Love and miss you dearly Mark, Mum, Dad and all your loving family xxx

MINI COOPER S

New injection of refinement with Mini

MATT KIMBERLEY
newsroom@lancspublications.co.uk
@LeighRep

MINI'S customers have told the company they want more refinement, more space and a more grown-up feel.

This all-new generation Mini pretty much dwarfs the old one when placed side by side, but while there still isn't masses of interior space there's a hidden compartment under the boot floor for more practicality.

This Cooper S now has 189bhp and is the only Mini hatchback (until the SD arrives) to use a four-cylinder engine. It has more punch than the old car and, thanks to different suspension tuning, feels a lot more straight-line stable.

There's a new injection of refinement, too, so the new S can sit at motoway speeds all day and be no more tiring than a day on a Majorcan beach. General comfort has seen a similar shot in the arm, and you get the sense that the Cooper S is now a better everyday car than ever.

Okay, so the front end styling might be fussier than a WAG at a L'Oreal counter, but the aggressive over-design here is actually aimed at men.

In an animalistic sort of way the Cooper S does look good in your rear-view mirror, especially with black bonnet stripes.

The Mini hatchback's image has always been ox-strong. It's found less room to breathe over recent times with competitors closing in like sharks around the Mini's territory, but while in some ways the car now holds less sway over its target market it's still a massively desirable model. Despite the new Mini body's chunkier dimensions, interior space isn't much improved. There's more shoulder room in the rear, but there's still so little legroom that for adults it's pretty much off-limits unless the driver sits really close to the steering wheel.

The boot is 51 litres larger courtesy of an under-floor compartment, but even a pair of small bags pushes the limits of the available space. For all its new-found maturity it's still a car designed for young people.

TALKING SPORT

With JOHN YATES

As I observed a minute's silence along with both players, officials and fans before the Widnes Vikings-Saints Super League clash at the Select Security Stadium on Easter Monday a shiver went down my spine - and with good reason.

The silent tribute - in respect of the 96 Liverpool fans who died in the Hillsborough disaster 25 years ago - brought back traumatic memories and the thought that I could so easily have been one of the victims.

I will never know how close I came but the fact that 12 months earlier when the same two clubs, Liverpool and Nottingham Forest, had met at Sheffield in the semi-final stage of the FA Cup I had been standing of the jam-packed Leppings Lane central terracing and what I learned that day is maybe why I'm able to write this column today.

On entering the ground my two friends, who had accompanied me to the match, pointed to the long dark central tunnel at the Leppings Lane end of the stadium and said: "Let's go down there."

But recalling my experience the previous year, I replied: "I went down there 12 months ago and nearly got crushed to death."

Those words still haunt me today...

A scene from the Hillsborough disaster

The Rugby League rulers are apparently about to show sense - and bring the curtain down on the two-match Easter programme. OK some of the lesser well-off clubs will regret losing the kind of revenue generated by the Bank Holiday double-header but I'll tell you what it will come as a blessing in disguise for the coaches and their players.

It will ensure that bosses like Saints' Nathan Brown will not be forced to make wholesale changes to his team, as he did against Widnes on Monday just a few days after a high tempo derby clash with Wigan and ahead of this weekend's a crucial Tetley's Challenge Cup at Leeds.

No one can blame him for prioritising his fixtures - every coach would do likewise in the same circumstances - but at the same time neither is fielding below strength sides fair on the fans who pay their money in anticipation of watching the best Super League can offer.

Change the structure of the competition and neither the clubs nor the fans will have cause for complaint. It's so simple, I don't know why it has taken so long to get this far.

Cables win comfortably

Prescot Cables 3
Burscough 0

Prescot Cables defeated Burscough comfortably at Hope Street however Burscough will rue missing several good scoring opportunities in what for the most part was an even contest.

Manager Dave Powell made three changes from the side which had won at Wakefield the previous week. Haynes, Pouncey and McGann replacing Cairns, Gianotta and Doran.

Burscough kicked off playing towards the Knowsley end. After gaining possession from the kick off Cables played a long ball forward for Chris McGann which Duff cleared.

Burscough responded with Pelger crossing from the right for Brookfield whose first time shot was deflected for a corner. From the corner taken by James Short which literally was a short corner Jordan Williams shot wide from the edge of the box.

It was an end to end game played at relentless pace, and another long ball over the top from Cables found Isaac Kusolaka who lobbed the ball over the keeper from the edge of the box only to see his shot drift agonisingly wide of the far post and still remain in play and Max Pouncey following up hit the ball over the bar from an acute angle.

Burscough left back Short then played a long ball over the Cables defence for Williams but it was Cables keeper Richie Mottram who was first to the ball.

More good play from Burscough between Connolly, Williams and Laird saw Laird head wide of the post. Francis Foy continued to pose a threat for Cables down the left and his cross to the near post was headed on by Kusaloka and punched clear by Burscough keeper Horn.

On 19 minutes Cables took the lead when Foy played the ball into the box for Kusaloka who turned sharply and fired hard and low past Horn into the net. On 21 minutes Burscough were almost gifted an equaliser when Craig Haynes was caught in possession by Jordan Williams but Richie Mottram came to the rescue pushing William's shot away for a corner.

Burscough pushed forward in search of an equaliser and Duff crossed long into the box for Brown who headed across goal but Mottram held well. Phil Bannister looking to exploit Kusaloka's pace played another long ball forward but Horn racing out of his goal cleared the ball into touch.

Cables had another opportunity before the break when Shinks played the ball forward to McGann who played in Kusaloka whose shot was blocked by the Burscough defence

Cables began the second half on the offensive Kenendy and Kualoka linking down the right, Kusaloka hitting the ball across the face of the goal and out of play. Kusaloka then played the ball inside to Phil Bannister who dragged his shot wide of the target. Max Pouncy then played a ball in for Isaac Kusaloka to chase but he was just beaten to it by the keeper.

Burscough had two good opportunities to level the score firstly when Brown shot high and wide from in front of goal then Mottram saved Jordan William's shot.

Cables made their first change on 55 minutes, Luke Balaz replacing Nathan Parish. Burscough continued to press for an equaliser and Connolly had a shot blocked for a corner from which Williams headed on for Short who headed over at the far post. Cables made their second substitution on the hour Rob Doran replacing Chris McGann. Burscough then squandered another opportunity on 64 minutes when Short crossed into the box for the unmarked Jordan Williams who shot straight at Mottram.

Cables made Burscough pay dearly for that miss when Kusaloka scored his second goal on 66 minutes. Burscough keeper Tim Horn hit an attempted clearance straight at Kusaloka who gathered the rebound before rounding Horn and slotting the ball into the empty net. One minute later and Cables nearly added a third goal, Pouncy's shot being saved by Horn for a corner.

On 88 minutes Cables score their third goal when Doran crossed low into the box for Pouncy whose shot was waved by Horn only for Luke Robinson to follow up and score from the rebound.

Prescot Cables: Mottram, Kennedy, Foy, Shinks, Haynes, Parish, McCulloch, Bannister, Kusaloka, Pouncey, McGann. Substitutes: Lowton, Balaz, Coyle, Doran, Robinson.

YOUNGSTERS SHOWING THE WAY IN DOUR EASTER LOSS

Paul Wellens scored but could not prevent Saints crashing to defeat

WIDNES	40
SAINTS	26

By John Yates

@StHelensRep

Widnes recovered from their Good Friday derby-day blip by recording their first ever home victory over St Helens in the Super League era.

Denis Betts' side were humbled 44-6 by Warrington a few days ago but that was soon forgotten as the Vikings bounced back in style, running in seven tries against Nathan Brown's men to clinch a 40-26 win.

Both coaches tinkered with their line-ups following the respective defeats to Warrington and Wigan, but it would not detract from a thrilling encounter at the Select Security Stadium.

It was the Vikings who started impressively - a total contrast to what happened on Good Friday - and they were 12-0 up after only 12 minutes.

First, Rhys Hanbury touched down after Kevin Brown opened up Saints on the left-hand side, and it was his timely pass to Danny Galea that gave Hanbury the space to sprint over.

Danny Tickle banged over the conversion and it was all Widnes at this stage as Brown began to turn the screw. Tickle went close himself with a barge over from close range but the Saints defenders were up to the task.

Chris Dean thought he had scored as he romped in from 20 metres, but he was hauled back by referee James Childs for a knock on in back play.

However the Vikings got the try they were searching for on 21 minutes as Jack Owens chimed into the line and passed to Cameron Phelps who sent in Willie Isa for a spectacular effort out wide.

'Saints had some decent spells but Widnes were in a confident mood'

Tickle added the extras but that sparked a Saints revival and, off the back of a massive Andre Savelio charge, the visitors crossed in the corner through Samoan international Sia Soliola.

But the Vikings replied in typical fashion and a bullet pass from Lloyd White sent Alex Gerrard under the sticks.

Widnes should have been further in front two minutes later as Phelps broke through but he passed inside to no support.

Saints then sprang into action and two tries in two minutes soon followed.

Mose Masoe bulldozed his way in, but not before Isa had sent him rocking with a bone-crunching effort, and veteran Paul Wellens was on the shoulder of Josh Jones to score.

It was nicely poised at 18-16 at the break and Widnes extended their lead four minutes after the restart as Hanbury dummied his way over.

Saints had some decent passages of play but Widnes remained in confident mood and on 55 minutes they began to think they could close the match out as Paddy Flynn finished off in style after some good work by Dean.

Tickle added the conversion but Saints came back through Lance Hohaia and the rampaging Savelio and somehow Tommy Makinson grounded the ball out wide to put them right back in it at 28-20.

Former Saints man Dean was held up over the line as Widnes tried to hit back and he eventually got his reward on the next set as he powered over out wide.

Tickle made it 34-20 with 12 minutes remaining and that was reduced to eight as Hohaia touched down with Makinson's conversion leaving a thrilling finish.

The visitors threw everything at the Vikings but Widnes absorbed it.

Sinfield hails Saints warrior Wellens

England skipper Kevin Sinfield has hailed Paul Wellens as a "warrior and legend".

The pair has locked horns countless times of the past decade and more, but the Leeds man has nothing but respect for his St Helens counterpart.

"I've had the privilege of playing alongside him as well as in the rep teams," said Sinfield. "He's an absolute warrior, a legend.

"He's a school year above me - I keep reminding him of that when I see him - but he's still going strong.

"To be able to re-invent yourself at 34 and play a variety of role, which he does, is magnificent and testament to Paul as a bloke and as an athlete.

"He'll make a great coach. I know he's not quite ready for that yet, but he's a gem of a bloke.

"I've only got positive things to say about him and I'm glad he's still playing."

St Helens youngsters suffer 11-try mauling

A shell-shocked U19s oufit suffered a 11-try mauling when they entertained arch-rivals Wigan Warriors at Langtree Park last week.

Second-in-the-table St Helens were fully expected to pick up both points against a Wigan side struggling to make any impact in the competition but derby matches often turn the form book upside down and this was case in point.

Saints never recovered from finding themselves 36-6 behind at the interval, eventully going under 64-20.

Tries for the hosts came from Morgan Knowles (2), Dave Eccleston and Lewis Galbraith with Dave Hewitt and Lewis Fairhurst landing the goals.

■ Ex-Saint James Graham won the Battle of Britain, with his Canterbury Bulldogs side beat fellow England forward Sam Burgess's South Sydney Rabbitoths.

Amor and Sinfield both prize egg-chasers

In-form prop Kyle Amor says he is relishing the prospect of taking on Leeds for a spot in the Challenge Cup quarter final.

The Saints ace was part of the Leeds squad which lost the 2010 cup final to Warrington but he did not make it on to the field of play.

"To get to a Tetley's Challenge Cup final is something I have wanted personally for a long time," Amor said.

Kevin Sinfield & Kyle Amor

"I was lucky enough to go with Leeds and the atmosphere and occasion is incredible and it is something I want to be a part of again, it's a dream of mine to play in a Tetley's Challenge Cup final."

Saints v Leeds is undoubtedly be the tie of the round, with Amor and Leeds skippers brought together by RLF chiefs to promote the clash at a chocolate-making workshop in Yorkshire.

The pair spent time larking around, trying their hand at egg-making before settling down to the serious business of predicting their sides' fortunes.

"It was great fun, it's not something that I've ever done before, and I'm not used to being in a kitchen!

"My kids were on hand to see their dad making Easter eggs and they really enjoyed it," said Amor.

"It was a bit tempting as a professional athlete with all the chocolate around but everyone loves a bit of chocolate!

"I think my egg came out best but I know Kev thinks differently! The real test will come on Saturday at Headingley."

"The Tetley's Challenge Cup is a great competition and the magic isn't lost on us," added Sinfield.

"It's too long since we have had our hands on the trophy and to do well in the competition this year is very important to the club."

Defeat is reality check for Saints in derby showdown

SAINTS	14
WIGAN WARRIORS	33

@StHelensRep

ANY derby day defeat is a bitter pill to swallow as far as Saints' fans are concerned but Good Friday's setback against their arch-rivals at sun-kissed Langtree Park could prove to be a blessing in disguise and a timely reality check for the players.

St Helens' Jordan Turner scores a try during the First Utility Super League match at Langtree Park

After nine wins on the bounce - eight in Super League and one in the Tetley's Challenge Cup - an air of invincibility may have started creeping into the players' minds but last season's double winners clinically and ruthlessly demonstrated that Nathan Brown's squad is still far from the finished article and not quite championship material at this moment in time.

"We didn't learn any lessons from previous games which we won and now we have had to lose to heed some good advice that is staring us firmly in the face," said straight-talking Brown, who looked on as his charges were given a sharp reminder of the qualities needed to end an eight-year wait for Old Trafford glory.

"Wigan have got two trophies in their cabinet for a reason and you can't afford to carry players against them like we did today," he added.

"We had too many who performed at a level which, in my opinion, wasn't good enough to beat a champion side.

"This has been the case in the past four or five weeks, despite our wins, with some players producing below-par performance and being supported by the more talented members of the team."

At the same time, the Aussie boss insisted: "If someone had said at the start of the season that we would win our opening eight league games and knock Huddersfield Giants out of the Challenge Cup but lose to Wigan, I would have accepted it."

Unfortunately, Saints also reserved arguably their poorest display of the season for a fixture in which local bragging rights were up for grabs and Wigan gleefully seized them firmly with both hands.

No one could begrudge Shane Wane's boys the two points on offer as they were the dominant force and only under any real serious threat at the start of the second half when holding on to a tenuous 20-14 lead. But then Lady Luck smiled on Wigan - and Liam Farrell in particular.

The second rower, who had already grabbed one of his sides first-half tries, scored what can best be described as a bizarre 43rd minute touch down.

It proved pivotal to the outcome as the Pie Eaters built on their slice of good fortunate to wrap up what in the end was a more comfortable victory than anyone had expected.

Saints, however, will be far from enamoured by their overall contribution, outmuscled in the heart of their defence and finding it difficult to cope with the visitors' speed on the edges and their slick handling, orchestrated by on-song skipper Sean O'Loughlin.

The league leaders couldn't have made a worse start in a bid to hold on to their 100 per cent record - and not for the first time in recent weeks gift-wrapped the opposition their opening try after only three minutes.

Prop Louie McCarthy-Scarsbrook spilled the ball close to his own line and it was an invitation to loose forward O'Loughlin to blast his way over from dummy half, with scrum half Matty Smith adding the extras.

Full back Jonny Lomax, who had an outstanding first-half, quickly responded for Saints by setting up a try for winger Tommy Makinson a couple of minutes later which scrum back Luke Walsh goaled.

The hosts thought they had edged in front when Matty Dawson, standing-in for the injured Adam Swift on the left flank, touched down, only to see his effort ruled out due to an earlier obstruction.

Wigan immediately took maximum advantage of the situation by snatching two tries in the space of six minutes - and both oozed quality.

O'Loughlin showed speed of thought as he backed up a break by stand off Blake Green to send right winger Dan Sarginson over with an unerring long range pass, and then Farrell took a pass one-handed to produce a razor-sharp finish after left winger Joe Burgess re-gathered a clever Green chip kick.

But Saints hit back with a two-try salvo of their own in the 27th and 35th minute - Makinson snapping up Walsh's cut out pass and then Jordan Turner's disappointment turned to elation as he crashed over the whitewash, only moments after he had been denied a try by video referee James Child.

Smith added a penalty on the stroke of half-time to increase Wigan's lead to six points and crucially they edged further ahead three minutes after the resumption in rather fortuitous circumstances

Farrell followed up a Burgess kick ahead to hack on and couldn't believe his luck when it rebounded into his arms off Lomax, leaving him a clear run to the line and setting up a simple conversion for Smith in front of the sticks.

The scrum half then took his tally to six following an electrifying 50 metre dash by Burgess had completed Wigan's try scoring after 49 minute.

It still left time for Smith to hammer the final nail in his former club's coffin with a 67th minute drop goal.

Significantly, Saints' failed to register a single second-half point for the first time this season and this was hardly surprising on the back of some rather poor handling, caused to a large degree by over-anxiety as they strived desperately to wipe out their deficit.

Boss Brown warns that big mistakes are costing team

A frustrated Brown said: "Our starts to a game are a big issue. Even when we are winning games and going well, our first contribution is always an error.

"It can be from a kick off, playing the ball or dropping a bomb. It is something we need to look at because it is happening far too often as far as I am concerned."

Hopefully, they will be able to eradicate the growing problem ahead of Saturday' mouth-watering Tetley Challenge Cup fifth round against

Leeds Rhinos at Headingley

If they can't, then they could be looking down the barrel of a third successive defeat and the end of their Wembley dreams.

Meanwhile, Brown accepted the scoreline against Widnes was a fair one, and was left to rue his side's poor start.

"With four or five minutes to go, we were still in it, but the score probably reflected the game," he said.

"Our start to the game is an issue. We have not started games well at all. Whether it's kick-off, bomb or anything - we start the game very poorly and we have to look at it.

"The guys had plenty of fight in them - 18-4 down and we fought our way back - but credit to Widnes."

On the hectic Easter schedule, he added: "We had a lot of players out there who are young lads.

"The thing with Easter is that everyone is in the same boat. We had 10 lads who didn't play today but we are playing Leeds this week and we have a lot of injuries and that's just the way it is, but we will get some benefit of them not playing."

And Matty Dawson joined the injury list on Monday, with Brown revealing: "Matt Dawson has fractured his cheekbone. Matty has been playing well for us and it's a bit unfortunate, but that's the nature of the game."

BIG MISTAKES ARE COSTING US TRIES

Brown is concerned about terrible starts

SAINTS

BY JOHN YATES

@StHelensReport

COACH Nathan Brown admits he is more than a little worried by the manner in which Saints have leaked tries in the opening stages of their last three games - all stemming from self-inflicted wounds.

Along with Bradford Bulls and London Broncos, who occupy the bottom two position in Super League, Saints are the worst starters statistically in the competition, Brown pointed out.

The Aussie was speaking after Saints first-ever Super League defeat at Widnes on Easter Monday when Lance Hohaia's inability to deal with a bomb eventually led to the hosts posting a quick-fire lead and then never looking back.

A mistake by Louie McCarthy-Scarsbrook in the opening minutes of Good Friday's derby showdown with Wigan at Langtree Park was also instrumental in handing the visitors a confidence-boosting first try in what turned out to be convincing 33-14 win and while Jon Wilkin's handling howler from the kick-off in the previous fixture at Castleford Tigers didn't prevent Saints picking up maxium points, it cannot be ignored.

Rookie Alex Walsmsley impresses team mates

Saints Alex Walmsley is tackled in the game against

Kyle Amor has described the progress of rookie prop forward Alex Walsmsley as "outstanding".

The former Batley wrecking ball has been a dominant figure alongside Amor in Saints revamped frontline.

Amor and Walmsley have been Saints' outstanding performers at prop forward, with Richard Beaumont still struggling with injury and Mose Masoe being used in shorter bursts.

"He's been outstanding this year, absolutely massive for us," said Amor.

"He's such a big lad and helps us go forward. It's been great to play alongside him.

"I think we're different types of forward and we complement each other well."
